Real Estate Licensing FAQs

What amount of education does the state of Nevada require before an individual can become licensed?

The state of Nevada requires a person to complete education before he or she can become licensed in real estate. By no means does this requirement state that the student must attend classroom time. This requirement means that a student must understand the principles and practices (including Nevada law, Contracts and Agency) of real estate before they can become licensed.

How does the state measure a student's knowledge of the principles and practices of real estate?

The state's testing company administers one final exam comprised of 120 multiple choice questions. This test contains 80 questions pertaining to National real estate principles and 40 questions pertaining to the state of Nevada's real estate laws. The prospective licensee must score a 75% or better on both of these portions.

Does a licensee have to be a resident of the state of Nevada or a citizen of the country to become licensed?

No, the licensee has to be legally capable of working in the United States.

Can out of state licensees waive some of the Nevada real estate educational requirement?

Yes, depending on how many hours of pre licensing education the prospective licensee took in another state. Contact the admissions office of the school to have a counselor assess any previously completed education. Though the student can waive portions of the education, they may still be required to pass both portions of the licensing exam. The state and national (general) exams must both be passed unless exemptions are met allowing a waiver.

Where is the Nevada real estate exam administered and how often is it given?

Any State of Nevada's chosen testing company. There are four locations in Nevada (two in Las Vegas) and many more across the United States.

Must a prospective licensee find a broker to work under before getting started?

NO, It is strongly recommended that students select a broker that best suits their independent needs after attending the pre licensing education program. Key Realty School has several school counselors who assist in finding the right brokerage company. The licensee must select a brokerage before they begin the practice of real estate. Nevada allows one year from the date that the student passes the licensing exam to make the decision of which brokerage to conduct business under.

What are the costs of the examination and the license?

The exam is $100 (for both portions) payable to the current Nevada Testing Center. Student should see the website for current fee schedules pertaining to license application.

Are there additional fees that I have to pay outside of my education, test and licensing fee?

NO. Many licensees elect to join memberships or brokerage marketing plans which can better the licensee's success ratio. These memberships and marketing plans may have fees, but no additional fees are required by law to begin your practice as a real estate licensee. All additional fees are paid for at the sole discretion of the licensee.

What are the differences between Key and the other pre licensing courses offered?

Key Realty School's pre licensing course has many benefits. Key Realty School guarantees that no other educational facility will include all of the book, audio, computer and online material with a pre licensing course or your Key course is free. Key workbooks and study aids are specifically designed for Nevada testing and licensing. Many other schools provide text written and published for other states and hope the student can extract Nevada information. Key Realty School is proud to say that over 50,000 students have received their education through its superior instruction.

Appraisal FAQs

Must a student complete an internship to become licensed?

Yes, a 2 year and 2,400 hour internship is required before a registered intern can become licensed as an appraiser. The law clearly eliminates the possibility to complete the internship in less than a 2 year span. (It can always last longer than 2 years, but never less.)

What must a student complete before they can register as an intern?

Students must complete at least 78 Hours of initial appraisal education. The 78 hours of education must include at least 15 hours of USPAP education as well as at least 3 hours of Nevada law. The remaining balance of appraisal education can be taken in any approved appraisal subjects. (Key Realty School's balance of the 78 hours of education is comprised of Appraisal Principles and Procedures)

How can a prospective intern find an appraiser whom they can intern under?

Key Realty School can provide students with lists of existing licensed appraisers. Students can then seek out the internship position from this list or through contacts they have made in appraising, mortgage companies or real estate.

Is the internship paid?

The pay scale is determined by negotiation between the licensed appraiser and the intern. Example: Appraiser "Smith" agrees to pay intern "Jones" $150 per appraisal completed. Appraiser "Smith" will sign off on the "Jones" appraisal to make it valid. Though "Jones" performed the majority of the work "Smith" will also retain $150 for signing off using his expertise.

Home Inspection Education

Structural Inspection

* See website for tuition.

This course is designed to prepare the student for the structural inspection field in Nevada. Below is a description of Nevada's licensing requirements and the educational course students must complete prior to becoming licensed. Home inspectors assess a particular attachment to land (under 10,000 sq ft), noting specific defects that will be disclosed to all interested parties. Nevada requires the completion of a three step process to activate a structural inspection license.

STEP 1

Complete 40 hours of structural inspection education in preparation for the Nevada licensing exam.

STEP 2

Passing the Nevada Structural Inspection exam with a 75% or better.

STEP 3

Complete at least 25 inspections with an existing inspector or the equivalent in education.

New classes begin every month

Call the admissions office or visit the website for all classroom course calendars.

Structural Inspection 101

* See website for tuition. Verify if textbooks or lecture manuals are needed for the course.

This first inspection course is the academic training program. The course provides the students with the basics of inspection to comply with Nevada Real Estate Division's preliminary education requirement and give students all the necessary information to pass the Nevada Structural Inspection exam.

Key Realty School offers this course 6 times a year and traditionally over 2.5 weeks of study.

Structural Inspection 102

* See website for tuition. Includes all textbook and lecture manuals.

Many prospective licensees elect to meet Nevada's requirement of 25 inspections by taking Key Realty School's on site inspection course (Struct 102). Our instructor for this course has been approved by the Nevada Real Estate Division. This class includes at least 8 onsite inspections with the full analysis of each site inspected. The instructor guides each student through the entire inspection and then the class will discuss the inspections performed. The lecture covers the structural standard and procedure an inspector needs to perform when inspecting. It also covers the inspection report and its presentation to all interested parties. Structural 102 is the practical course. Sample "generic" forms will be used in the onsite inspections.

This course meets all of Nevada's post test requirement and is equivalent to 25 inspections with an existing inspector.

Home Inspection FAQs

What does an inspector inspect?

The inspector starts with the exterior of the property then ventures into the structure itself. The inspector will visually inspect the roof i.e. flashing, chimney, gutter and downspouts. Structural inspectors also inspect the siding, trim, windows, doors, decks and driveways/walkways. After completing the exterior, an inspector visually inspects the interior components of the home such as walls, plumbing, appliances etc. In addition to noting visible defects, inspectors will often test each system inspected. Once the inspection is complete, the inspector will produce a written report that describes the systems and components of the home and their current condition.

How many hours of education are required before a prospective licensee can take the licensing exam?

The State of Nevada requires a minimum of 40 hours of inspection education before an individual can take the state licensing exam. Key Realty School offers 60 hours of class because the course includes 20 hours of additional test prep training as well as the 40 hours of classroom instruction.

What other requirements must the prospective licensee complete before they are granted a license?

After taking the examination, the state of Nevada requires prospective licensee to complete one of the two training programs: either 25 inspections with an existing inspector or an onsite educational program equal to 25 inspections (Structural 102).

How much does the average inspection cost and what can the inspector expect to retain from this fee?

The average inspection costs $300. The inspector can expect to retain this whole fee if they are the sole owner of the inspection performed. If the inspector works under an existing inspection company, the inspector will split the inspection fee for the agreed upon percentage or amount.

Property Management FAQs

Must an individual possess a Nevada Real Estate license to take the property management class?

No. A prospective student does not need a Nevada real estate license to take the property management course. But, to activate the property management permit, the prospective student must have an active real estate license. Therefore the class can be taken for informational purposes or can be taken before the real estate license is activated. (One cannot receive compensation for property management unless they possess an active real estate license)

Who needs a property management permit?

Anyone who intends or has been contracted to manage multiple owners of multiple sites and perform the management function. Defined: The leasing activities, the marketing, collecting of rents, analyzing prospective tenants, etc.

What is the difference between a Permit and a Certificate?

The permit is an attachment to a real estate license that entitles the holder to perform any property management function. A certificate is often a designation certificate issued by a non state or government approving body and thus does not legally permit any management activity without the permit.

Yes, persons who wish to obtain a Nevada Business Broker Permit must hold an active Nevada Salesperson, Broker Salesperson, or Broker license to apply for and activate the Nevada Business Broker permit.

What type of business can a real estate licensee sell without the business broker permit?

Nevada Real Estate licensees without a Business Broker permit can sell businesses that are designed to generate income based on the real property itself. Specifically, the entity that is to be sold must report at least half of all profit/loss ratios based on performance of the real property. Examples of this include: Hotels, Ranches, Apartment Complexes and other businesses- that involve the real property as its source for revenue.

Can any licensee acquire the permit or does the licensee have to be a broker?

Any licensee can acquire the business broker permit so long as the licensee completes the education and exam requirements. The licensee must also be affiliated with a brokerage that permits business sales or the licensee must be a broker themselves.

Is the curriculum of the course similar to real estate?

No. The Business Broker course curriculum is more accounting based than real estate as real property is rarely involved in the sale of businesses.
